

PREVALENCE OF FOOD INSECURITY IN BELIZE, 2021

Household food insecurity occurs when the quality or amount of food consumed is compromised (moderate food insecurity) or when there is a decrease in food intake and interruption of eating routines (severe food insecurity).

2 ZERO HUNGER

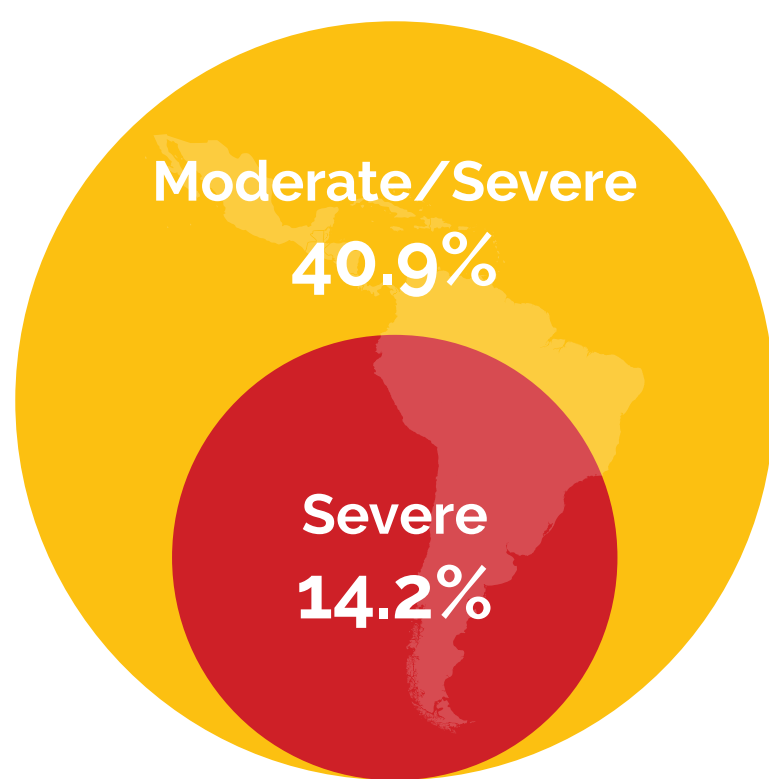

Food insecurity along a continuum of severity

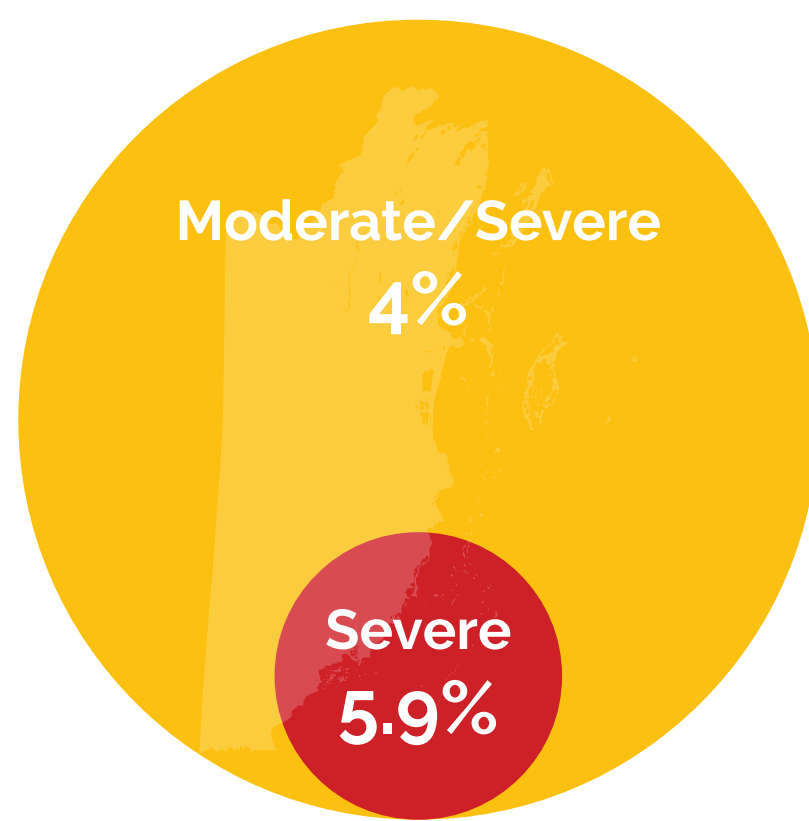

Estimated prevalence of food insecurity by area 2020/2021

Latin America and the Caribbean

BELIZE

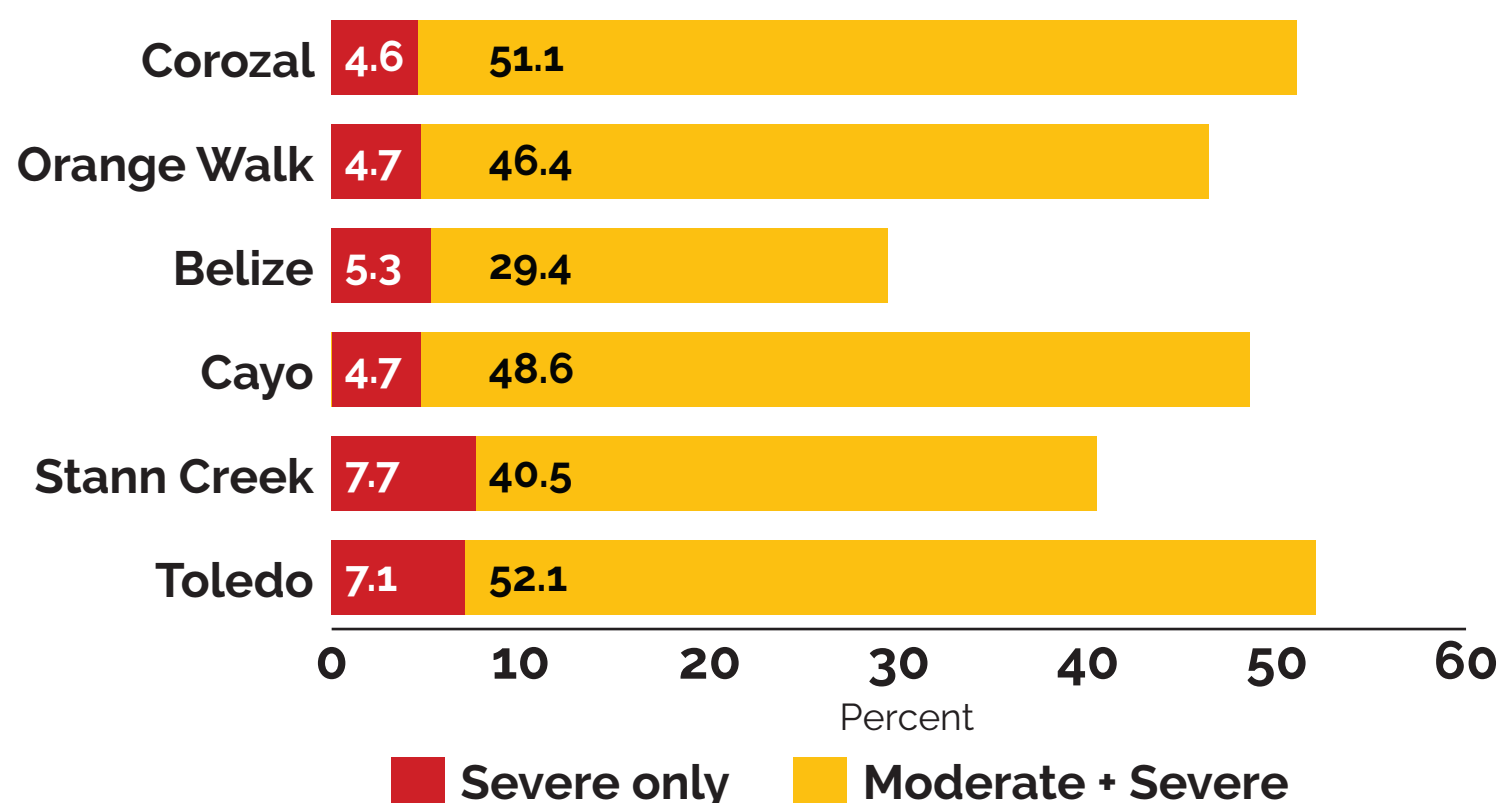

Moderate Food insecurity

People experiencing moderate food insecurity face uncertainties about their ability to obtain food, and have been forced to compromise on the quality and/or quantity of the food they consume

Severe Food Insecurity

People experiencing severe food insecurity have typically run out of food and, at worst, gone a day (or days) without eating

Estimated prevalence of food insecurity by district 2020/2021

Estimated prevalence of food insecurity by ethnicity 2020/2021

